About me

I am a creative and optimistic person, with great learning abilities, proactive and sociable. Also I am passionate about technology, and I consider myself a self-taught person.
Currently evolving my knowledge and searching new challenges.

Experience

Frontend Developer at Viseven (January 2023 - Currently)

I have had the privilege of serving as a Frontend Developer at a prominent pharmaceutical company. My primary focus in this role has been the creation of Interactive Visual Aids for pharmaceutical products, intended for implementation on iPad devices. Additionally, I have taken on the responsibility of promptly addressing and rectifying any errors or imperfections that may arise during the development process, proactively addressing client requests and needs. (HTML, CSS, VueJS, Javascript, Jira, eWizard, Git, Gitlab, Adobe Creative Cloud, etc)
